FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Robin Wood-Mason Named New CEO of Community Shares of Colorado

Denver, CO, May 12, 2022 – Robin Wood-Mason has been named Chief Executive Officer of Community Shares of Colorado and will begin in the role on May 31, 2022.

Robin is coming to Community Shares of Colorado from The Delores Project where he served as the Director of Development and Communications. Previously, he held Deputy/Interim Executive Director roles at Bal Swan Children's Center and the Matthew Shepard Foundation, as well as leading the development team at Boulder County AIDS Project.

A graduate of The George Washington University, Robin has worked in the non-profit sector supporting and advancing a variety of social justice issues that align with many of Community Shares of Colorado's member cause areas. Robin also serves on the Board of Directors of Rocky Mountain Crisis Partners.

Rising to the top of a competitive and diverse candidate pool, Robin impressed the Search Committee and Board of Directors as a wonderful external spokesperson, an energizing internal cheerleader, and values-driven leader.

When selected to fill the Community Shares of Colorado CEO role, Robin Wood-Mason said, "It is an honor and a privilege to step into this role and to continue building the capacity of the non-profit sector in Colorado. In a time of great division in our communities, philanthropy brings us together. Community Shares of Colorado is the perfect place to build community, strengthen member non-profits, and encourage social responsibility among our corporate neighbors." Robin is excited to meet the community at Community Shares upcoming annual Summer Celebration, on June 9. Come join us there for your first opportunity to meet and interact with Robin. For more information and tickets, please visit: <https://www.cshares.org/>.

Robin lives in Denver with his husband and two dogs. He spends his free time taking the dogs to Cherry Creek State Park, fishing and canoeing around the state, and has a passion for travel.

Community Shares of Colorado engaged The HR Shop, a purveyor of forward-thinking human resources services, for support with the CEO search. <https://www.thehrshop.com/>
